Brief Introduction to Nagoya

NAGOYA where JLC Language Institute is located, is right in the middle of Japan and is one of the three biggest cities along with Tokyo and Osaka. In Nagoya the manufacturing industry is flourishing, and Toyota, the world's leading manufacturer of automobile, is headquartered near Nagoya. Many industrial products produced in Nagoya are not only supplied in Japan, but also exported overseas.

Because of the city's convenient position between Tokyo and Osaka and the excellent transportation network, like expressways and Shinkansen (bullet train), it is easy to go everywhere else in Japan from Nagoya. The Nagoya subway system covers almost the whole area of the city.

Both domestic and overseas travels have become even easier since the opening of the Central Japan International Airport (Centrair) in 2005. The southwestern area of Nagoya faces the sea, where there is Nagoya Port, the important port for international trade in Japan. Nagoya is rich in historic remains, like Nagoya Castle and Atsuta Shrine, and also has excellent cultural facilities (museums, art galleries and theatres.)

The city is convenient for living, as there are many shopping and dining places. Prices are lower in Nagoya than Tokyo and Osaka, and the climate Nagoya is relatively mild, making it an ideal place for international students to study Japanese.
